PROFILE

Dick is a highly qualified data protection professional with numerous certifications, including CIPP/E, CISM, CIPM and CTPP. He has over a decade of data protection expertise, working with organisations in the Netherlands and across the EU, overseeing GDPR compliance and advising on a wide range of privacy matters.

With a strong background in project management, Dick possesses exceptional organisational skills and a deep understanding of privacy regulations, making him a trusted advisor to his clients. His expertise in product management, combined with his excellent communication and problem-solving skills, allows him to navigate even the most challenging compliance issues. Dick's breadth of experience in the Financial sector has fueled his passion for establishing and upholding GDPR and privacy compliance. This dedication led to his role as board member of the Dutch Society of DPO's (NGFG), where he continues to advance data protection standards.
