

JACK

DATA PROTECTION OFFICER

SPECIALISMS

- ✔ eCommerce
- ✔ Retail

LANGUAGES

- ✔ English

PROFILE

Jack is a passionate data protection professional who constantly strives to effect positive change within each organisation he represents, driving compliance forward and inspiring a data protection culture. He is an extremely strong communicator, with the ability to build rapport and deliver training to all levels of staff to best facilitate knowledge development.

Jack has worked in the data protection industry since the introduction of the GDPR, and he dedicates a lot of time to his personal development to stay ahead of the sector's constantly evolving landscape.

Leveraging his interpersonal skills, Jack has successfully fostered a sense of community across The DPO Centre team by leading internal initiatives, such as our weekly Virtual Coffee.

QUALIFICATIONS

- ✔ ISO 17024 EU GDPR Practitioner Certification

SAMPLE EXPERIENCE

Jack has worked with organisations across Retail, eCommerce, SaaS, Technology, and the Charity sector, offering expert guidance on a diverse range of data protection challenges.

As the DPO for a global recruitment agency, Jack completed compliance audits across multiple jurisdictions. He guided the organisation on state privacy legislation in North America, ensuring key stakeholders were aware of their respective obligations.

Working with a veterinary services provider, Jack was responsible for creating and maintaining a full suite of policies and procedures, running a cookie compliance programme across a portfolio of websites, and liaising with supervisory authorities where necessary. He also created a bespoke, interactive data protection eLearning module for staff, reducing the number of breaches caused by human error, and acted as the point of contact for all data protection queries from over 500 sites of varying sizes.