SAMPLE EXPERIENCE

Katie was the Data Protection Officer for 120 schools across Suffolk, ranging from nursery to further education. She was responsible for conducting regular compliance audits and issuing recommendations on how to improve data processing practices, policies, and other documentation. As their Data Protection Service Lead, Katie also oversaw the smooth onboarding of new clients and ensured the highest possible standard of service delivery.

Katie now acts as the primary DPO for organisations across various sectors, including Education, Research, and Insurance. She ensures structured compliance frameworks are in place, reviews policies and procedures documentation, and provides tailored data protection training to key stakeholders, ensuring all staff members are aware of their obligations and responsibilities under data protection law.
